Why are there so many off days? Just these past few weeks the following has happened: there was a snow storm on a Monday which closed the school for the ENTIRE WEEK. Then, this past Friday 1/27 there was a 'teacher work day", and now there is no school Wednesday, Thursday, and half of Friday for parents-teachers conferences! Why is school closed for two and a half days for conferences?? I remember when I was a student there were no days off for conferences, it was in the evening. Especially now with Zoom- why even have any days off at all for conferences?!

With all the missing classes, virtual classes, etc. there is even more reasons to not have these extra days off- the kids are falling behind and no one seems to care.
