2.0 ENGAGE

1.0 DISCOVER

During the Discover phase, ACPS and the planning team will identify constraints for the project, establish Guiding Principles that will drive the planning, and will research best practices and educational options from high schools around the country.

During the Engage phase, ACPS and the planning team will meet with multiple stakeholders in the community to hear their visions for the future high school learning experience. At the end of this phase, a vision for recommended educational program models will be presented to the School Board for their consideration and approval.

3.0 DEFINE

During the Define phase, ACPS and the planning team will develop educational specifications and site options for the new high school programs identified during the previous phases. Several options and scenarios will be explored.

4.0 EVALUATE

During the Evaluate phase, the various options and scenarios will be comprehensively evaluated to determine the ideal building and program solution for addressing both growing enrollment and the future high school learning experience. Additional community feedback will be sought before making a final recommendation to the School Board for approval.
