FROM: Gregory C. Hutchings, Jr., Ed.D., Superintendent of Schools

TO: The Honorable Ramee A. Gentry, Chair, and Members of the Alexandria City School Board

TOPIC: Listening and Learning Fall Tour

SUMMARY: One of the goals listed in the Superintendent's 100-Day Entry Plan is to partner with families and the community in the education of Alexandria's youth. Based on this goal, I am hosting a Listening and Learning Fall Tour for ACPS families and community members on Tuesday, October 30th (George Washington MS) and Thursday, November 1st (Francis C. Hammond MS) from 6-7:30 p.m. During these tours I hope to hear from our families and community:

- What is working well in our schools?
- What are their hopes for our schools?
- What advice do they have for an instructional focus superintendent?

BACKGROUND:

Part of the Superintendent's 100-Day Entry Plan is to establish a rapport with board members, students, parents, teachers, school administrators, support staff, administrative staff, central office staff, special groups, community organizations, businesses, city officials, local universities/colleges, and religious leaders to ensure effective communication and collaboration that will continue to move us forward as a school division.

IMPACT: Effective communication and collaboration with all stakeholders that will continue to move us forward as a school division.
