Too many kids are behind to continue to leave them by themselves to learn. Every time I'm am observing my daughter during class she is in the waiting room. If she needs help she's in the waiting room as soon as a topic is introduced she is ent to the waiting room after lunch and l.e she is in the waiting room choosing work from the voice board which is basically her free time to a 7- or 6-year-old. She is behind in reading and it will only get worse under these circumstances. There needs to be a change. She is not the only child I know having this issue.
