My question/ comment is related to the decision to keep one high school in Alexandria to serve a prospected 5,500 students. I noticed Last year that when the decision was made, many of the school board members seemed to heavily weigh Dr. Hutchings opinion and guidance on the matter. I'm wondering if any of their opinions have changed since Dr. Hutchings opted out of our one high school for his child and after we learned he has plans to publish a book. I'm speculating that the book is about our one high school.
